We're delighted to announce a stellar line up of VIP speakers for Deputy Day 2017: In Best Interests: a unique look at the responsibilities, pressures and the continued practical challenges that impact on ensuring the wellbeing of vulnerable individuals across England and Wales.

The Frenkel Topping Deputy Day Conference is now the 'go-to' event of the year for Court of Protection specialists. In Best Interests is set to be another 'unmissable' conference for delegates.

Chaired by Andrew Ritchie QC, 9 Gough Square, the CPD conference will feature keynote speaker Alan Eccles from the Office of the Public Guardian, plus experts from across the industry.

Our line-up is experienced in the increasing responsibilities of deputies and trustees. Our speakers aim to share their thoughts on the role of deputies and trustees as an 'official bystander' to protect and account for the wellbeing of vulnerable individuals.

As ever, we will include time for the hugely popular breakout sessions at this event, in the form of our Wellbeing Collaborative Hubs. The hub sessions provide an opportunity for deputies to discuss their concerns and share experiences with professionals in a confidential environment.

Deputy Day 2017: In Best Interests, is ideal for professional deputies, trustees, litigation and private client experts as well as case managers and other professionals who help enhance the quality of life and, importantly, long term wellbeing of vulnerable clients.
